STEGEMAN COLISEUM

Georgia volleyball will play every 2018 home match in Stegeman Coliseum. The volleyball team opened the newly-renovated arena on Oct. 11, 2017 with a match against Tennessee. The most recent renovation, completed in September of 2017, was highlighted by a center-hung video board along with other improvements including new seats, an LED lighting system, and an all-new sound system.

Christened in 1964 as the Georgia Coliseum, the venue was officially renamed and dedicated to the memory of Herman James Stegeman on Saturday, March 2, 1996. Stegeman made many contributions to Georgia's athletic program during his 20-year tenure (1919-39). He was a pioneer in the development of college basketball in the south, originating the region's first big basketball tournament when he organized the Southern Conference Tournament in Atlanta from 1921-32. Stegeman Hall on the UGA campus was named for Coach Stegeman in 1946 and for years it was home of the University's athletic and physical education departments. The athletic department moved its offices to the new coliseum in 1964, and Stegeman Hall was demolished in 1995 following completion of the Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities.

The Coliseum is actually two separate structures, the roof and the building beneath it. The only connection is an aluminum bellows which seals the joints and permits the rise and fall of the roof with temperature change.

Stegeman has undergone thorough renovations in the last few years, receiving a 21st Century face lift. When fans arrived for the start of the 2017 season, they walked in to the final product following more than $20 million in renovations over the past several years.

That summer, the arena received a massive center-hung video board, new black seats, an improved LED lighting system, a state-of-the-art sound system and graphics above the horseshoe end celebrating past teams and retired jerseys. That followed work in the summer of 2016 which provided a dramatic mural covering the Coliseum's distinctive end wall. In 2010, Stegeman's concourses received a similar makeover, upgrading the graphics, enhancing spectator access to concessions and rest rooms and adding 5,000 square feet of concourse space on each side of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.

In addition, Stegeman Coliseum was utilized for rhythmic gymnastics and preliminary volleyball competition during the Centennial Olympic Games in 1996.

A The new center-hung video board greets Georgia fans and is the focal point to the newly-renovated Stegeman Coliseum.

Stegeman Coliseum served as the site for preliminary volleyball and rhythmic gymnastics during the 1996 Atlanta Olympics.

A The Ramsey Student Center is the home of the Georgia volleyball program featuring the team locker room (pictured above), a team lounge, and coaches offices.

The team video room located in the coaches office suite is an ideal location to break down film and

V hold team meetings.

G eorgia's $40 million Bernard B. and Eugenia A. Ramsey Student Physical Activities Center is where the Georgia Bulldogs volleyball team is housed. One of the nation's largest on-campus facility for recreation and fitness, the Ramsey Center, features a three-court volleyball arena and amenities that are all utilized by the Bulldogs for practices and competition. The Ramsey Center encompasses 440,000 square feet - UGA's Sanford Stadium could fit inside the center's more than five-acre footprint - and the variety offered is as vast as the area covered. Four gymnasiums, three swimming pools, seven group fitness studios, climbing and bouldering walls, an indoor challenge course, 10 racquetball courts, two international squash courts, two strength and conditioning rooms, four cardiovascular overlooks, a one-eighth-mile indoor track, equipment checkout and Pro Shop, an outdoor equipment rental and resource center are all available under one roof.

The first volleyball match played in the Ramsey Center was on Sept. 22, 1995. Prior to playing in the Ramsey Center, the Bulldogs' home volleyball matches were held in the Women's Physical Education Building. With a seating capacity of 1,925, the Ramsey Center Volleyball Arena produces a lively environment featuring the Redcoat Pep Band, UGA Cheerleaders and Georgia mascot Spike!

During the summer of 2009, new additions were added to the volleyball area of the Ramsey Center with the program's coaches moving into new offices along with the addition of a theatre-style team video and scouting room, a new training room, a new visitor's locker room and a players' lounge that features a sitting area, a wi-fi bar and a nutrition station.

Named the best recreational facility in the country by Sports Illustrated in 1997, the Ramsey Center is a constant reminder of the University of Georgia's commitment to athletic excellence and the realization of what is required to achieve greatness.

Murals and wall graphics throughout the facility highlight the history of Georgia volleyball including All-Americans and All-SEC performers.

"Something for everyone." That's one way to describe the academic, athletic, and social experience at the University of Georgia. UGA is a leader among public universities nationally with a breadth and diversity of degree programs that rival any institution of higher learning. Various degree programs such as education, business, international affairs, journalism, math and public administration rank among the best in the nation. With its top-notch facilities campus-wide, the University of Georgia is an ideal setting for anyone to pursue a world-class education.

The University of Georgia is the birthplace of public higher education in the USA. On January 27, 1785--just two years after the Revolutionary War and still four years before George Washington's inauguration as our first President--the Georgia Legislature adopted the charter that created the University of Georgia, making UGA the oldest chartered state university in the nation. More than 225 years later, Georgia still offers something for everyone.

UGA

Uga has established himself as the nation's most well-known mascot. Uga X, also known as Que, was collared during the 2015 football season.

THE ARCH

Recognized as one of the school's finest icons, students today hold the Arch in high regard as its three pillars represent the virtues of wisdom, justice and moderation.

CHAPEL BELL

The ringing of the chapel bell after a Georgia victory is a tradition that continues today even though freshmen are no longer ordered to do the chore.

2018 SEASON NOTEBOOK

CONTINUE GROWING

AFTER A SUCCESSFUL FIRST SEASON UNDER TOM BLACK, THE GEORGIA VOLLEYBALL TEAM LOOKS TO KEEP THE MOMENTUM ON THE COURT GOING IN 2018.

2018 will be the second season under head coach Tom Black at Georgia. The Bulldogs return 11 student-athletes to the roster including five starters (plus libero) to the 2018 roster.

In 2017, Georgia completed one of the best turnarounds in Division I from the previous season, finishing with a 22-12 record and 10-8 Southeastern Conference record, finishing fifth in the league. In 2015 and 2016, Georgia had one combined conference win.

THE FUTURE IS BRIGHT

The Bulldogs finished the 2017 regular season winning eight of their last 11 matches. A pair of three-game conference win streaks were the longest since 2013. The Bulldogs finished with 10 SEC wins in 2017, the most since 2013 when the Bulldogs won 11 conference games.

In RPI, Georgia made one of the greatest turnarounds from the 2016 season. At the end of 2016, the Bulldogs ranked 189. Georgia ranked 57 at the end of 2017, good enough for a jump of 132 places. That figure ranked seventh-best. Central Arkansas (211-66) made the greatest turnaround, jumping 145 places.

CEASAR EARNS SPOT ON U.S. COLLEGIATE NATIONAL TEAM

Outside hitter T'ara Ceasar was one of 12 players invited to the U.S. Women's Collegiate National Team China Tour. The team trained and competed in China in late May. The USA went 4-1 in five matches. The SEC was represented by Ceasar, Florida's Thayer Hall (OH) and Rachael Kramer (M), and Kentucky's Madison Lilley (setter).

FIVE BULLDOGS TAKE PART IN U.S. NATIONAL TEAM TRYOUTS

A total of five Georgia volleyball student-athletes attended the U.S. Women's National Volleyball Team open tryout at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs in March. Majesti Bass, T'ara Ceasar, Meghan Donovan, Katie Houser, and Rachel Ritchie represented Georgia at the tryout. It was Bass and Donovan's second trip to Colorado Springs for open tryouts.

GEORGIA VOLLEYBALL CITED IN APR RECOGNITION

Georgia Volleyball was one of four Bulldog varsity sports teams publicly recognized by the NCAA for outstanding achievement in the annual NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) report. The recognition honors teams that scored in the top ten percent of all teams across the country in each sport.

CEASAR, DONOCAN EARN AVCA ALL-REGION HONORS

The American Volleyball Coaches Association named outside hitter T'ara Ceasar a member of the 2017 All-Southeast Region Team. She is the first All-Region player from Georgia since Alexandra Oquendo in 2005. Setter Meghan Donovan earned an honorable mention on the region team.

CEASAR NAMED ALL-SEC, ALL-FRESHMAN TEAM

Outside hitter T'ara Ceasar was named to the All-SEC and All-Freshman Teams. Ceasar became the first All-SEC player from Georgia since Brittany Northcut in 2013 and the first freshman Bulldog to appear on the All-SEC Team since Jasmine Eatmon in 2012.

GEORGIA FINISHED IN TOP FOUR OF SEC IN EVERY OFFENSIVE CATEGORY

The Georgia offense placed itself in the top four of every offensive category in 2017, including hitting percentage, assists, kills, and service aces. The conference rankings featured Georgia at the top in service aces with a 1.57 average, highlighted by T'ara Ceasar who led the team in service aces in 12 matches last season.

The Bulldogs were fourth at .243 in hitting percentage. In kills, Georgia boasted a third-place position (13.75), fueled by outside hitters Ceasar and Rachel Ritchie at third and fourth in the individual rankings. Meghan Donovan headlined the Georgia assists, providing her own third-place spot with 10.95 per match, bringing Georgia to its fourth position as a team 12.91 assists per set.

BULLDOGS HAVE STRONG SHOWING IN SEC WEEKLY AWARDS

Georgia earned 12 weekly SEC awards this season, topping the previous program record of four set in 2003, 2004, 2005, 2008. Four different Bulldogs were honored by the conference this season with three earning Freshman accolades. Meghan Donovan had three Setter of the Week awards while T'ara Ceasar led the pack with a whopping seven Freshman of the Week awards. Fellow freshmen Kendall Glover and Rachel Ritchie were also recognized.

BLACK IN HIS FIRST SEASON

In his first season at Georgia, head coach Tom Black placed 22 W's in the win column. Of the six head coaches before him, he topped five of them in their first season. Jim Iams guided the Bulldogs to a 30-4 season in his first year at the helm (1989). Georgia also appeared in the NIVC that season.

Of 10 first-year "Power Five" head volleyball coaches in 2017, Black posted the fourth-best conference winning percentage (.556) behind Stanford's Kevin Hambly (.950), Louisville's Dani Bushboom Kelly (.900), and Illinois' Chris Tamas (.600).

FRESHMEN PHENOMS

Outside hitters T'ara Ceasar and Rachel Ritchie were powerhouses for the Georgia offense in their rookie campaigns. The two ranked in the top 10 in the SEC in kills and points. Nationally, Ceasar ranked 31st in kills per set while Ritchie ranked 84th. Ceasar was the highest ranking freshman in the category. Ceasar also made her presence known on the service line, ranking fifth in the league in aces, 54th nationally. Her ranking of 21 was the best for a freshman with 4.79 points per set. Ceasar led the team with 26 double-digit kill matches with Ritchie close behind with 24.

CAREER MILESTONES

Sophomore setter Meghan Donovan tallied her 2,000th assist in the match against Mizzou on Oct. 29 at Stegeman Coliseum. The sophomore already ranks eighth all-time at Georgia in career assists.

GEORGIA SHINES IN NON-CONFERENCE PLAY

Georgia went 10-3 in non-conference play, which included three tournaments and a collection of individual recognition. After opening the season 4-0 at home, Meghan Donovan and Kendall Glover headlined the Bobcat Invitational at Ohio. The next weekend, Georgia was crowned tournament champions at the Wildcat Invitational at Davidson, with Glover and Rachel Ritchie being named respective Tournament MVP and All-Tournament.

BULLDOGS DEBUT RENEWED STEGEMAN COLISEUM

The renovations to Stegeman Coliseum were completed in 2017 and have transformed the arena into an upgraded, more energized atmosphere for Georgia volleyball, women's and men's basketball, and gymnastics. Volleyball was the first Georgia program to debut the arena on Oct. 11 when the Bulldogs hosted Tennessee. The summer project included the addition of an HD video board with LED graphics panels, as well as a mural covering the arena's east end. The new space features new black seats, an improved LED lighting system, a renovated sound system, and graphics above the horseshoe end with past teams and retired jerseys.

HEAD COACH*TOM BLACK14th SEASON OVERALL (264-127)SECOND SEASON AT GEORGIA (22-12)*

The 2018 Georgia volleyball season will be the second under the direction of head coach Tom Black.

In his first season at the helm, Black took a Georgia team that had one Southeastern Conference win in two seasons to a fifth-place finish in the league. The Bulldogs concluded the 2017 campaign with a 22-12 overall record and a 10-8 SEC clip. Finishing fifth, the Bulldogs clinched an automatic bid to the National Invitational Volleyball Championship (NIVC), advancing to the semifinal round.

Under Black's instruction, the 2017 team finished second in the SEC in kills per set (13.75), fourth in hitting percentage (.243), and first in aces per set (1.57). In all, the Bulldogs finished in the top four of every offensive category in the conference. In RPI, Georgia made one of the greatest turnarounds from the prior season, jumping 132 spots to 57.

The 2017 campaign saw the breakout of T'ara Ceasar. The freshman landed a spot on the All-SEC Team and All-Freshman Team along with AVCA All-Southeast Region Team. The Panama City, Florida native earned a place on the U.S. Collegiate National Team during the offseason. Nationally, Ceasar ranked 31st in kills per set while fellow freshman Rachel Ritchie ranked 84th. Ceasar was the highest ranking freshman in the category.

Black, an accomplished collegiate and international coach, was named the seventh head coach of the Georgia volleyball program in December of 2016.

Black came to Athens with 12 years of NCAA collegiate head coaching experience with time at UC San Diego and Loyola Marymount, accumulating a career record of 242-115 after posting six seasons with 20-plus wins.

Working with some of the top athletes in the country, Black has been extremely active with the U.S. Women's National Team over the last few years, working alongside U.S. head coach Karch Kiraly. Black most recently served on the staff at the 2016 Rio Olympic games as an assistant coach, as the United States garnered a bronze medal.

Black spent the last seven seasons at Loyola Marymount, leading the Lions to 127 wins and three NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the Sweet 16 in 2015 after upsetting No. 13 Colorado State and No. 6 Stanford. His team notched back-to-back 20-wins seasons in 2014 and 2015. In 2014, the Lions entered the AVCA Top 25 Poll at No. 23 and held a national ranking for five weeks.

During his stint, 21 student-athletes earned All-West Coast Conference honors while he oversaw four AVCA All-America selections and six AVCA All-Region picks. Black saw one of his players earn the WCC Defensive Player of the Year in four of the last six years while also garnering AVCA Region Freshman of the Year in 2014.

Prior to LMU, Black served at the helm of Division II UC San Diego women's team for five seasons. Black went 115-29 with the Tritons and had his team ranked

IT JUST MEANS MORE

ALUMNI SUCCEED AFTER GEORGIA

Life after Georgia has seen many volleyball alumni excel at the highest level. From Olympians in Elizabeth Reid and Alexandra Oquendo to playing professionally like Kathleen Gates, Bulldogs continue to succeed on the court. Some have taken to the sideline -- Jenny McDowell has led Emory volleyball to great heights and Maria Taylor has found her spot on the crew for ESPN's College Gameday and ABC Saturday Night Football games.

Whether it's in sports, in the community or out in the workforce, Georgia alumni continue to make a difference. These former Bulldogs have proven that at the University of Georgia and in the SEC it just means more.
